In the Social Realm

Miss Keller Entertains.

Miss Leota Keller entertained a "kid" party Friday evening. The guests were all attired as youngsters, some of the makeups being the cause of much merriment. The first part of the evening was taken up with playing school. Mrs. Brown, Philathea teacher, dressed up as school teacher and had her hands full handling some of her unruly pupils. Each girl brought a dinner bucket with lunch for two. The guests were: May Hatfield, Minerva Bailey, Grace Kenyon, Lulu Haralson, Alvina Haralson, Miss Berg, Lillian Arant, Juanita Simpson, Leota Keller, Earnestine Hicks, Freda Butterfield, and Messrs. S. A. Peters Jr., Frank Rush, Virgil Rush, Earman Swigart, John King, Earl Brown, Robert Keller, Arnold Rickman, Fred Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Rev. and Mrs. Blackstone, and Mrs. Simpson.

Delightful Surprise.

Mrs. J. R. Robertson was delightfully surprised at her home, 340 Almond street, last Wednesday evening by the young ladies of her Sunday school class and others from the Presbyterian Sunday school.

The party was of juvenile character, the merry crowd dressed as children carrying dinner pails and baskets. The charming hostess acted as schoolmistress. The names of the pupils were given and the usual spelling match took place.

The picnic lunch of many good things was served in picnic fashion with the water bucket on tap. The remainder of the jolly evening was spent in entertainment with vocal and instrumental music, readings and Irish stories.

Foster-McCarthy.

Herbert G. McCarthy of this city was united in marriage to Miss Carrie Foster Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents in Klamath Falls. Mrs. F. M. Moore of Eugene, sister of the groom, was matron of honor at the ceremony and James Foster, brother of the bride, was best man. Mrs. Anna G. McCarthy of Ashland was present at the ceremony. Aside from immediate relatives there were no guests. Miss Foster is one of Klamath Falls' most popular young ladies. Mr. McCarthy is at present a brakeman on the Klamath Falls branch of the Southern Pacific railroad. The couple passed through Ashland Sunday on No. 16 on a wedding trip which will include Portland, Salt Lake City, San Diego and San Francisco, after which they will return to Klamath Falls to make their home.

Teacup Club.

The Teacup Club entertained their husbands in the Sunday school rooms of the Methodist church Thursday. The feature of the evening's entertainment was a grand millinery opening. The men were asked to trim some hats, and some of the effects were artistic, to say the least. The hat trimming was followed by a fashion parade in which the men were obliged to wear the products of their ability as trimmers. A sculpturing contest was next in order and each guest was given a potato out of which he was to carve a head. The efforts created considerable mirth and the products of some of the sculptors were quite creditable. Elaborate refreshments were served. Mrs. Angie L. Engle rendered a reading which was enthusiastically endorsed. In the neighborhood of one hundred guests were present.

W. C. T. U. Notice.

The W. C. T. U. will meet as usual at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday. Congressional matters will be reviewed, including the fine record Senator Harry Lane has made on moral issues. Visitors are invited to attend.

At the preceding session the legislative work was reviewed. No measure in which the W. C. T. U. were particularly interested was defeated. That included the maintenance of the Industrial Home for Wayward Girls, the teaching of physiology in the schools, as well as passage of a law in regard to the liquor amendment. Various legislators were most courteous not only to our state officers but local officers as well.

Surprise Zebakiah.

Zacheus Zebakiah Reynolds was surprised by a number of the ladies of the neighborhood at his Guthrie street home last Thursday afternoon. The ladies enjoyed a pleasant afternoon. A dainty lunch was served. The affair was occasioned by the birthday of Z. Z. The guests were: Mesdames Coburn, Easterly, Hogue, James, Sayles, Reynolds and Misses Oma and Leola Reynolds.

J. E. Black, a mining man of Holland, Ore., and F. H. Carmichael, engineer from Winnipeg, Can., arrived in Ashland Saturday and are much interested in the springs development work.

What Is the Auxiliary?

The Auxiliary is a social development of the Civic Club.

The Auxiliary is a Woman's Club with a club home.

The Auxiliary is a welcoming hand stretched out to all women and girls who want companionship.

The Auxiliary is a chance for self-improvement and self-development along several lines.

The Auxiliary is a place where you can use for the benefit of others the talents you may have been hiding under a bushel.

Social Session of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. W. H. McNair will open her home on Oak street for a social session of the Auxiliary this coming Wednesday evening, March 24. All women who are in any way interested in the work of the Auxiliary are invited to attend and join this new annex to the Civic Club. Are you a stranger in town? Come and get acquainted. Do you find the evenings long and lonesome? Here is a chance to spend not only this one pleasant evening but many others as well, if you join the Auxiliary.

Morris-Hermanson.

Miss Rose Morris of this city was united in marriage with Alfred E. Hermanson of Medford at the Presbyterian manse Saturday afternoon, March 20. Rev. H. A. Carnahan officiated. The bride is a popular member of Ashland's younger set. The groom is a rising young business man of Medford.

Misses Edith Olson and Dorothy Thorne of Medford attended a party Saturday afternoon given by Miss Grace Taylor at her home in Ashland. The afternoon was spent in needlework, pleasant conversation and music, after which a very delicious luncheon was served.—Medford Sun.

Rural Pupils are More Accurate

The country children of Jackson county were more accurate and solved more problems than the children of the towns of that county, according to a report made on a test in arithmetic by County School Superintendent Wells to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill. He says that he prepared test problems for each of the grades from the fourth to the eighth inclusive. The city children, save in the fourth and fifth grades, were more rapid in their work, he said, but the country children, with the exception of the eighth grade, solved more problems and their work was more accurate.

Boosts for Ashland.

Mrs. A. E. Smith, a former resident and proprietor of the millinery store on Duwamish avenue, spent several days in the city last week as the guest of Mrs. C. C. Connor and Mrs. Uhla Wren.

Mrs. Smith came to Seattle to buy stock for the store she now has at Ashland, Ore. She is delighted with her new home and speaks glowingly of the growth of Ashland, which is in the center of a rich farming country; is a railroad division point; has six mineral springs which attract thousands of tourists and health seekers. Mrs. Smith is very enthusiastic over her new home and can be depended upon to boost for Ashland wherever she may be.—Duwamish Valley News (Seattle).

"Bud" Van Dyke has been smashing baggage in the local station during the past week.

Beet Factory is Not Forgotten

Soil Expert Storey of the beet sugar interests has been asked to send beet sugar seed to Josephine county to be planted as an experiment. Mr. Storey has stated that as soon as he receives a supply of the seed this will be done. All the seed that Mr. Storey will plant has been tested for purity and germination, and the experiments will go a long way in determining whether or not a beet sugar factory will be established in the Rogue River Valley. Mr. Nibley, Sr., has written that he will come to the valley some time in August, at which time a test will be made of the beets planted this spring. Mr. Storey states that Mr. Nibley's letter is very encouraging.

At its annual meeting at Portland the Oregon Forest Fire Association elected John W. Alexander of Portland, president; W. C. Calder of Baker, vice-president; Wells Gilbert of Portland, treasurer; C. S. Chapman, secretary and manager.

Baptist Church Notes.

Yesterday the pastor was unable to preach either morning or evening. In the morning Mr. V. O. N. Smith read the sermon. In the evening the B. Y. P. U., under the direction of Mr. H. O. Butterfield, took charge of the services. The orchestra rendered beautiful music both morning and evening. In the evening the Baraca quartet sang "Keep Rank."

In the morning a young man came forward acknowledging Christ as his Saviour and offering himself for membership by way of baptism. In the evening his wife also offered herself for membership.

This last week the following message came to the pastor:

"Bruce Evans, the evangelist, is

ARTHUR R. BLACKSTONE.

Dr. J. F. Reddy is at Salem in attendance at a meeting of the State Bureau of Mines, of which he is a member. At this meeting the plans for the making of a mineral exhibit from the state at the Panama-Pacific exposition will be solved. The late legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 for the purposes of this exhibit.—Grants Pass Courier.

STERLING

The Etruscan

One of the popular patterns in Gorham table silverware stands with the best products of the Middle Georgian Period.

The designers of that time were strongly impressed with pure Greek and Roman forms, invariably avoiding the rococo, the fantastic and the ornate. This new Gorham pattern, modeled upon these standards, attracts by its classic simplicity and is especially appropriate to Colonial and Georgian dining rooms.

Made in Sterling Silver only, and stamped with the Trade Mark: Lion, Anchor and letter G.

Which insures quality and purity of design.
